VOL. XXV, NO. 297 GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1909 TEN CENTS A WEEK

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR INAUGURATION

Everywhere There Are Indications That Somebody is Getting Ready For the Big Event.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—There is something in the very air on Pennsylvania avenue that would tend to indicate something big is about to be pulled off.

Everywhere there are carpenters working. Stands are being hastily constructed in front of the Capitol, where the inauguration proper is to take place, in front of the White House, and on every vacant spot along the avenue.

Everywhere there are indications that somebody is getting ready for something. In the windows overlooking the great thoroughfare through which the big parade is to march from the Capitol to the White House signs are hung up which read that for the small sum of from $5 to $100 you may occupy these windows on March 4th.

Another evidence that something is going to happen is the placarding of historic spots in the National Capital. For instance, one card on a small two-story red brick on Pennsylvania avenue informs you that the supreme court held a session there after the British had destroyed the Capitol along about 1812. There is scarcely a single block that is without some historic interest and without a placard.

There is even going to be an animal show on March 4, to say nothing of cane racks, side shows and all the other enterprises that follow big crowds.

And the inauguration ceremonies will be a success, if the lavish expenditure of money and time and pains count for anything. There will be a parade that, it is promised, will rival any pageant ever witnessed in Washington, with a crowd of 200,000 visitors to enjoy it.

The ceremonies will cost perhaps $150,000. This amount has been guaranteed by prominent Republicans and corporations, but it is likely those who volunteered to contribute will not be called upon to deliver, for inaugurations are generally self-supporting affairs. Nothing is free on inauguration day. You must pay for a seat in the reviewing stand or pay to attend the inaugural ball. Money thus realized goes toward defraying the expenses of the occasion, and if there is a balance it is turned over to the poor of Washington.

All plans for the big day are completed, and everything is practically in readiness for the induction of William H. Taft and James S. Sherman into their respective offices.

Here is inaugural day program:

10 a. m.—Morning escort of the President-elect from the White House to the Capitol by the Veteran Grand Army Division.

12 noon—Exercises at Capitol, concluding with administration of oath of office to President-elect. Then Mr. Taft's inaugural address.

12:30 p. m.—Formation of military grand division in streets south and southeast, and of the civic division in streets west and northwest of the Capitol.

1:30 p. m.—Afternoon escort of President Taft by the military and civic grand divisions from the Capitol to the White House at the conclusion of his inaugural address.

3 to 6 p. m.—Review of military and civic grand divisions by the President from his stand in the court of honor in front of the White House. Near him will be a general reviewing stand seating 6,500 persons. Over 100,000 persons are expected to be in the line of march.

7:30 to 9 p. m.—Display of fireworks.

9 p. m.—Inaugural ball in Pension building.

Strangers that come to Washington to witness the inauguration will be well taken care of up to the time of the actual beginning of the ceremonies. From that moment on they will have to look out for themselves. It is probable they will not be able to get close enough to the President-elect to hear what he says, but by standing on tip-toes and struggling with the crowd the visitor without a pull may be able to get fleeting glimpses of Mr. Taft while he is delivering the inaugural address. The visitor will have to take his own chances in securing a place to watch the parade. As Pennsylvania avenue is a mile long everyone will be able to see the parade. All will of course be able to witness the pyrotechnical display.

There will be ample accommodations for all who come, at exorbitant rates. Washington has always considered inauguration day one for making legitimate prey of the visitor, and undoubtedly always will. In the summer time it is as dull in the National Capital as it is hot, and the hotels as well as those who rent rooms and accommodate boarders look longingly toward winter and the convening of Congress. Inauguration days are regarded as opportunities to take advantage of, and all indications are that the regular custom will be maintained on March 4. Any other city would undoubtedly do the same, so there is no use treasuring any ill-will against Washington.

Outside of the exceptions noted, a cordial hospitality will be extended to all. Hundreds of guides will be stationed at the union station and steamboat wharves to direct strangers where to go, and to accompany women and those who desire it to any part of the city.

Aside from the inaugural ceremonies there is more for Americans to see in Washington than in any other city in the world. Half North and half South, it is interesting for the character of its population alone. A week's visit is a liberal education in itself.

Strange Disappearance of a Newberry Man

On Monday, February 15th, a young white man about 25 years old went to Newberry and rented a lot from John White on which he pitched his tent and engaged in the candy business. He continued doing business until the night of February 19th, since which time he has not been seen. The man cooked and eat in the tent, and the entire outfit remains on the lot as he left it. His strange disappearance is unaccounted for and the people of Newberry are interested as to what has become of him. He was about five feet ten inches tall, weighed about 160 pounds, had light hair and was of light complexion. If any one knows of his whereabouts or has seen him since February 19th they will oblige Mr. White by communicating with him at Newberry.

FAT 'POSSUM FEAST FOR GOV. GILCHRIST

GIVEN AT THE HOTEL LEON BY MISS HAMPTON.

Beautiful Place Cards With Pen and Ink Sketch for Each Guest Present.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 25.—In one way the citizens of Florida have the advantage of the citizens of Georgia, in that when they are bidden to 'possum supper here they are able to eat with appetites unimpaired by the harrowing recollection that each plateful consumed costs them the price of their winter's supply of wood.

At the Leon Hotel, Saturday evening, Governor Gilchrist was tendered a "'possum supper" by Miss Clem Hampton. Miss Hampton had been kindly remembered by Mr. D. W. G. Scarborough of Chattahoochee in a gift of the popular animals, and the Leon chef, by courtesy of Mr. Eugene Liday, manager of the hotel, did his best towards presenting them in a dish toothsome enough to be "set before a king." The deliciously cooked and exquisitely served seven-course dinner was a mere incidental, "'possum and taters" was the dish for which all appetites were whetted.

Place cards, decorated with a pen-and-ink sketch of the creature before he had become a sacrificial offering upon the altar of the latest fad in gastronomics, bore the following announcement:

"Our Governor from far Punta Gorda.
Who belongs to the Masonic Order,
Is invited to dinner today,
'Possum and Taters to store away."

Feb. 20, 1909.

Gov. Gilchrist, guest of honor.

The guests who were the happy participants of the feast were: Gov. Gilchrist, Messrs. J. G. Kellum, A. H. Williams, G. O. Andrews, Charles A. Cay, Mr. Allan, G. T. Whitfield, Mesdames James G. Gibbes, C. A. Cay, Genovar, Lawrence, G. T. Whitfield, Allan, W. N. Sheats, Miss Thompson and Miss Hampton.

Later in the evening the beautifully decorated drawing room was filled with guests, bidden to complete the enjoyment of the honored guest by engaging him in a game of bridge.

WAVE OF ECONOMY HITS CONGRESSMEN

Senate's Efforts to Raise Salaries of President and Others Turned Down By House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—With its war paint on, the House yesterday by sweeping majorities many times defied the Senate by rejecting its amendments to the legislative appropriation bill providing for salary increases for the President, the Vice-President, the Speaker, the judiciary and for the creation of the offices of under-secretary and Fourth Assistant Secretary of State. Party lines were obliterated completely.

It was a regular field day in the lower body, where oratory and confusion vied with each other for honors. Not during the present Congress has the Speaker been compelled to wield his gavel with such force to bring about order. Of parliamentary tangles there were many, but the veteran presiding officer emerged from them all with his decision undisputed.

The battle waged for more than six hours, at the end of which the bill was sent to conference.

Clark Leads the Fight.

Messrs. Underwood, Alabama, and Clark, Missouri, criticised the Senate increases, especially in reference to salaries. Mr. Clark in particular was emphatic in his objections to what he said were the "continual impositions of the Senate in the matter of appropriation bills."

Messrs. Bingham, Pennsylvania, Gillett, Massachusetts, and Livingston, Georgia, the House conferees, strenuously defended their report, which in so far as there was no disagreement, was adopted.

When the discussion turned on the increase in the salaries of the President, Vice-President, Speaker of the House and judges, about which the conferees could not agree, Mr. Clark declared there was much misinformation about the amount the President receives, and said that instead of it being $50,000, it actually is $291,000 per annum.

Cannon Starts the Trouble.

By a vote of 57 to 102 the House refused to accept the Senate amendment increasing the salary of the Speaker.

The increase proposed in the President's salary from $50,000 to $100,000 a year was rejected, the vote being yeas 141, nays 168. Before the announcement was made Speaker Cannon directed that his name be recorded in the affirmative.

An unusual scene followed. Members were on their feet in a general scramble for recognition for motions of one sort or another. The Speaker, unruffled by his besiegers, held that a motion by Mr. Watson, Indiana, to recede from the amendment and amend it so as to make the salary $75,000, was preferential.

The previous question was ordered and on the vote being taken on the adoption of the amendment it was carried, 163 to 149 amid Republican applause.

President's Salary Unadvanced.

The effect of the amendment will be to leave where it now is the President's salary, added to which will be the $25,000 heretofore appropriated for traveling expenses, but which the bill strikes out as a specific item of transportation, etc.

A long debate was precipitated by Mr. Bingham's offering an amendment to the amendment of the Senate designating the proposed new official of the State Department as "vice" secretary instead of "under secretary, and reducing the salary from $10,000 to $7,500.

Strenuous objection and ridicule even came from all sides to both the titles.

The charge having been made in several quarters that the United States was trying to "ape" foreign powers, Mr. Denby of Michigan disclaimed such a suggestion. The idea, he said, was to make the State Department conform to the diplomatic usage of all the world.

Bill Goes Back to Conference.

The amendment was vigorously supported by Mr. Watson of Indiana, while Mr. Mann of Illinois, in opposing the proposed creation of both the offices of under-secretary and fourth assistant secretary, maintained that it was simply another way of giving office to two additional people.

Without an opportunity being afforded to vote on the Bingham amendment the House, by a vote of 89 to 134, rejected the whole amendment.

All remaining Senate amendments pertaining to the State Department likewise were rejected.

The next battle was waged on the Senate amendment increasing the salaries of judges, including those of the supreme court of the United States. Finding themselves in a helpless minority, the conference committee moved a non-concurrence in all the amendments. This action was taken and the bill was sent back to conference.

General Offices of Big Lumber Co. for This City

It was learned Thursday from a reliable source that a party of capitalists of considerable note had purchased all of the holdings of the defunct Tyler Lumber Company and would establish their headquarters in this city.

Rumor has it that the men in question have purchased the property with a view to again starting up this mammoth enterprise in the western part of the county which employes a large force of laborers and will place money in circulation here, adding to the channels of trade.

The new company propose to operate the old sawmill to cut cypress lumber where it now stands, but will purchase and install at once another new and modern mill for the purpose of manufacturing pine lumber.

Their general offices will be located in this city, but they will be compelled to have quarters for the accommodation of the men near their works.

Removed to St. Augustine.

H. L. Kendle and family, who have made this city their home for the past three years, departed yesterday for St. Augustine, where they will in future reside. Mr. Kendle was connected with the Cummer Lumber Company in this city in the capacity of book-keeper, but resigned in order to open up an abstract business in the Ancient City.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

TO HEAR GOV. GLENN'S FAMOUS LECTURE WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Many Good Things Thursday—Mrs. Gen. Pickett Will Lecture Tonight. All Should Hear Her.

(By Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.)

The Chautauqua is fast drawing to a close, but the good things keep coming. Yesterday was fine and today promises to be still better. We hope for a crowded house at the lecture today at 3:30 p. m. and Mrs. LaSalle Pickett's great lecture in the evening.

At 10:30 Dr. Lowther gave his last lecture on the "Mission of the Poet," and it was indeed a feast to hear him.

At 3:00 p. m. the Lady Washington Quartette again favored and delighted the people with their singing. "The Blue Bells of Scotland" were most charming, also the reading from "Barrie's Little Minister" by Miss Ellen Wolcott was a great treat to all who are lovers of this writer's quaint stories of Scottish life among the middle class, and it was given in a most charming manner.

At 3:30 Prof. Woodland gave his second lecture on "Wireless Telegraphy," and the large crowd in attendance was evidence of the interest taken in these wonderful experiments that take place with each lecture. He is a fine talker and makes things plain or possible to our limited capacity to take in these great discoveries from a scientific world. When one sees all these wonders that man has accomplished in the past century we are led more than ever to think of the great power behind it all.

At 8 p. m. the Lady Washington Quartette gave another of their delightful half-hour songs and readings, after which came Ross Crane's lecture on "Looking Human Nature in the Face." This famous cartoonist and crayon artist is a great favorite in Gainesville and is always greeted with great enthusiasm by them. Last night was no exception, and all showed their appreciation by their rapt attention and hearty applause.

Wednesday Night.

Wednesday will not soon be forgotten, and the two lectures given by Gov. Robert B. Glenn were masterpieces. His talk in the afternoon was one that all young people could have heard with profit, urging them to bring themselves up to the very highest standard in their power, both physically, mentally and morally. In fact, unless the physical and moral nature be at its best the mental is not capable of doing its best work. Governor Glenn is a grand example of this fact with his grand physique, genial nature and clean, noble features. He was a poor boy, working early and late to care for a widowed mother. His hands were not afraid of any honest toil, and contact with the world has not taken from him any of his love for all things pure and ennobling. He stands strong for temperance, carrying his State for prohibition.

His evening lecture on "The South and Its Possibilities" was one that took in the events from Washington's time until now, and was one of powerful thoughts expressed in most forceful and glowing language. One moment speaking in thunder tones of scenes that roused his deepest emotion, or telling with pride of the wonderful onward march of his beloved Southland, and her still more wonderful future; the next telling with a roguish smile how he still loved a good old-fashioned love story, or telling something to cause a laugh. In such manner do we keep our heart forever young.

Professor Woodland's lecture on "Absolute Zero" was a great revelation to many of us, and caused our eyes to open wide and take notice when he threw snow balls at the audience in the form of condensed gas, and froze beefsteak so one could break it in only a moment's time. Also onions and cranberries, froze mercury so he could use it for a hammer, and then in a few moments let it go back to liquid.

The Lady Washington Quartette made its first appearance Wednesday afternoon, and gave a great treat to music lovers.

Attention, U. D. C.

The Chautauqua desires that all members of the local chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy meet Mrs. Gen. Pickett after her lecture at the Tabernacle tonight.

Worn Out.

That's the way you feel about the lungs when you have a hacking cough. It's foolishness to let it go on and trust to luck to get over it, when Ballard's Horehound Syrup will stop the cough and heal the lungs. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

HORSES WILL ALL BE PLACED UPSTAIRS

DAVIS & OLIVER ARRANGE FOR THIS IN NEW BUILDING.

Brick Ordered and Work Soon to Commence—Will Be Best Equipped Stable in the State.

Davis & Oliver, liverymen, will start the work of adding the second story to their building as soon as the material arrives, which it is hoped will arrive the following week.

They will place a second story over the entire back part of their building, covering over one-forth of the block, and over three hundred thousand brick will be used in making this new addition.

When asked what they would use this extra space for Mr. Davis said they had decided to have it added for the purpose of storing horses. Substantial and attractive stalls, well ventilated, will be placed all over this new part and it will in every way enable them to better handle their increasing business.

An electric elevator will be placed in commission for transporting the horses up and down, while a good runway will also be placed in the building.

The front part of the building will be used for the storing of their stock of buggies, wagons, harness, etc., and the space now allotted for the use of horses and mules will be taken up by wagons and other merchandise which they propose to handle.

Although this firm has been in business only a short while it shows that with proper energy and push there is ample room for Gainesville's two large and well furnished stables to increase at all times.

"Dandy Dixie Minstrels."

Among the attractions booked for The New Baird Theatre is the "Dandy Dixie Minstrels," a big company of colored performers under the direction of John J. Nolan, proprietor and manager of the world-famous "Black Patti Troubadours."

For a real negro to be as good a negro minstrel man as a white man is, according to general belief, impossible, and such a spectacle is uncommon. But the people who constitute the "Dandy Dixie Minstrels" contain a number of men who are real comedians and whom nature as well as art make colored entertainers of genuine merit. This company is a very large one; it numbers forty people, headed by Billy Kersands, with the Cotton Pickers' Band, and a stupendous scenic and electrical equipment and all the details needed to ensure an absolute perfect performance.

They come to The New Baird Theatre on next Thursday night, March 4th.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned take this method of extending our heart-felt thanks to the kind friends for their sympathy and kindness in the death of our darling little baby, Dorothy May, and for the floral offerings. We pray the blessings of our heavenly Father upon them. Sincerely,

MR. AND MRS. J. D. WALKER.

T. K. Godbey Doing Immense Business in Growing Potato Sprouts for Transplanting.

WALDO, Feb. 25.—The death of Mrs. J. L. Stevens on the 18th, though she had been ill for some time, was sudden and a great shock to her many friends. She was a prominent member of the Presbyterian church and was much beloved by all who knew her. Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. L. Branning at the home and cemetery, and were largely attended. She leaves a husband and son who have the sympathy of the whole community.

A check for $19 was returned to J. R. Wilkerson by the bank as having the incorrect signature of Cauthen & Co., and it was found to be an out and out forgery. Another with a genuine signature of the same which had been raised from $4.50 to $20.50 was paid by a bank and both were payable to Harry Walker, a colored employee of Cauthen & Co., who fails to properly explain the irregularities and may get into trouble by it.

The logging outfit of Eddy's mill at Orange Heights passed here on their way to Quincy, whither the whole business is being removed.

C. M. McKinney has bedded out four thousand and two hundred bushels of sweet potatoes for plants to supply T. K. Godbey, who has put out several thousand bushels also, and others lesser quantities in order to meet the annual demand on him for potato sprouts, which runs up to millions. Last year he sold ten thousand dollars' worth of plants, including cabbage, tomatoes, onions, etc., shipping them into various States.

A brilliant affair was a reception given by Mrs. E. W. Millican a few days ago in honor of Mrs. Charles F. Eddy before her removal to Quincy. Their elegant new home was a scene of beauty with its decorations of pot plants, ferns and cut flowers. Seventy-five invitations had been issued and it seemed nearly as many were present. Delicious refreshments were served and delightful music furnished. The names of those who took part are too numerous to mention. All who were there were delighted.

Miss Daisy Hicks has returned from Birmingham, Ala., where she has been engaged in teaching for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hall will locate here again as soon as a house can be procured. They are at present boarding. He is on the S. A. L.

J. L. Neal has removed his merchandise and Mrs. Neal her millinery into the Hicks brick block recently vacated by W. D. Finlayson, who moved into the Strickland brick block.

The partnership of A. Turner & Son has been dissolved and E. A. Turner becomes the successor.

Mrs. W. G. Bailey gave a splendid birthday party on the 50th anniversary of Mr. Bailey's birth. A variety of delicious viands were served. Music by Miss Alice Strickland on the piano, Mr. Bailey on the violin and Mr. Broughman on the cornet was quite a feature of the occasion.

Good rains have facilitated the planting of corn, beans, squash, etc., for market and gardens for the home.

"NOC" OSTEEN GIVEN WHISKEY ON TRAIN

SUPPOSED THAT HE MET MIXSON AT HOLDER SUNDAY.

And Invited Him to Drink With Him. Suggestion As to How Mystery May Be Cleared.

The Sun is in receipt of a letter from an old and personal friend of the editor of the paper in which he has the following to say regarding the late tragedy which occurred at Holder, when two men met their death from supposed poisoned whiskey.

The information puts a different light upon the subject from what has already been published, as it shows that Osteen had the whiskey and undoubtedly met up with Mixson and gave him some of the poisoned stuff. The letter in part follows:

"Noc Osteen, mentioned in your daily as being poisoned from drinking wood alcohol, was a brother of Joe Osteen, formerly of Crystal River, but now working somewhere about Montbrook.

"I am informed that "Noc" was on the north-bound train Sunday morning, or Saturday morning, en route to Holder from Dade City, when someone on the train gave him a bottle of liquor.

"My theory is that when Osteen got off the train at Holder he got Mixson to drink with him, and the result is that both are dead. If the party who gave Osteen the liquor on the train can be located the mystery might be cleared up."

The Pure Food and Drug Law

has not only brought the foods and drugs of this country up to a higher standard of purity, but it has eliminated the harmful medicines with which this country was flooded.

Such medicines, however, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, purely a roots and herbs product, will continue its beneficial work among women.

Cave Was Play House.

The "dig out" discovered in West Gainesville a few days since was the work of a crowd of young boys who had devised this plan of having a play house. Just where their idea originated is not known, but they substantially constructed it to last for years to come.

COTTON GROWER SAYS LAW SHOULD BE PASSED

PROHIBITING SALE OF SEA ISLAND COTTON IN SEED.

Says It Is Only Redemption for the Cotton Grower, Whether He Be Large or Small Producer.

Editor Sun: I have noticed several communications in The Sun violently opposing the proposition to prohibit the sale of Sea Island cotton in the seed during certain months of the year. The trend of all these articles is that such a law would be detrimental to the poor man who raises less than a bale of cotton. Pray tell me how it would effect his interests? Could he not have his cotton ginned the same as those who raise a bale or more? Of course he could, and receive half a cent a pound for the seed from his crop. Such a law would be for the benefit of the small grower as much as for the large one, and it is the only redemption I now see for the cotton growers. Everyone knows that numbers of negroes, and whites too, open up little shops in the fall all over the country and buy cotton principally from people who do not make a pound of the staple, but who steal it from those who have grown it. As you well know, a certain class of people can sell more cotton from a "patch" than a six-horse farm can make, and it is this class of people and the little shop men, backed by the factors, who buy sufficient cotton in the seed from those who have not made it—that keep down the price of cotton and are working ruin to the farmers who produce the crop.

If we had a law prohibiting the sale of Sea Island cotton in the seed until the 15th of December you would see the Sea Island cotton producing country of Florida blossom like the rose, but if we do not get some protection the real cotton growers will have to abandon their farms. I hope such a law will be passed.

For City Marshal.

To the Voters of the City of Gainesville:

I am a candidate for City Marshal, for re-election on April 13. I have served the people faithfully and efficiently, night and day, and my record is open for inspection.

If my service during the past year has been satisfactory I ask the support and vote of each and every citizen who is qualified. I can only promise the same service as I have endeavored to give in the past.

Yours for order,

BEN T. ARNOW.

I take this method of informing the public that I am a candidate for City Marshal at the election to be held on April 13, 1909. I respectfully solicit the support of all voters, irrespective of party affiliation, and promise to faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of the office should I be elected. Respectfully,

CHAS. C. WARREN.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of City Marshal, to be voted for at the election on April 13, 1909. If elected I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office without fear or favor. I respectfully solicit the votes of all, irrespective of party affiliation.

Are doctors good for anything?

Foolish question! Yet some people act as if a medicine could take the place of a doctor! The best medicine in the world cannot do this. Have a family doctor, consult him frequently. If we did not believe doctors ordered Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds we would not make it for you.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

A new hotel second only to the Tampa Bay is now planned for Tampa.

Work on the erection of a new eight-etory hotel will soon begin in Jacksonville.

The body of Capt. Andrew Martin, of the missing schooner Cleopatra, was found on the beach on Hurricane Island near Pensacola.

Mayor Rose and the members of the famous Rose Marching Club of Milwaukee took a surf bath in the Gulf while at Pensacola.

Hon. E. R. Gunby of Tampa was elected president of the Florida State Bar Association for 1909 at the meeting held in St. Augustine.

The Government troops will take an active part in the Ponce de Leon celebration to be held at St. Augustine on March 31 and April 2 and 3. Great preparations are being made for the event.

Claude Bedsole, a negro with a police record, was shot at Pensacola on Tuesday night by Police Officer Anderson at the union depot, the bullet striking the jawbone. Although badly wounded the negro still survives. At the time of arrest the walks and streets about the depot were crowded with blacks and the negro under arrest attempted by his acts to excite them to assist and oppose the officer. He resisted and fought the officer and called upon the negroes to assist. Finally the officer became exasperated and released his grip on the black, and when the latter stopped to pick up a brick the officer fired.

HIGH-O-ME

That's the Way to Pronounce Hyomei, the Money-Back Catarrh Cure.

As doubt exists in the minds of many readers of The Sun let us say that the above is the proper pronunciation of America's most wonderful catarrh cure.

J. W. McCollum & Co. are the agents for Hyomei in Gainesville and they will sell you an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and full instructions for use, for only $1.00.

And if it fails to cure acute or chronic catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, croup, hay fever or coughs and colds, they will give you your money back. The person who suffers from catarrh after such an offer as that, must like to snuffle, spit and wheeze, and be generally disgusting.

Read what Mr. Lowe, a respected citizen of Allegan, Mich., says of Hyomei:

"I have used Hyomei for a case of nasal catarrh which had bothered me for a long time. I can say that Hyomei killed the germs of the disease and gave me the much sought and needed relief. From this experience I know Hyomei to be a reliable remedy, and I give it the praise and recommendation that it deserves."—G. F. Lowe, R. F. D. No. 7, Allegan, Mich., September 19, 1908.

Vinol Restored This Man's Strength

"Several years ago I was attacked by a severe case of grippe, which left me with a hacking cough, soreness in my chest, and bronchitis. I took nearly every kind of cough syrup sold on the market, besides medicine given me by physicians.

I received no permanent relief until my druggist asked me to try Vinol, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured.

I believe Vinol to be the greatest blessing ever offered to the public, as it does what is claimed for it." R. E. R. Hicks, Maplesville, Ala.

The reason Vinol cures chronic coughs, colds and pulmonary troubles is because it contains tonic iron and all the healing and body building elements of cod liver oil but no oil.

Vinol is also unexcelled as a strength builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, and after sickness.

VINOL is sold in Gainesville by W. M. Johnson, Druggist.

A Cure For Insomnia.

Next time your slumber fails to arrive on schedule time cast all thought of sleep from your mind and start in to name to yourself all the friends you have had or now possess. It's much more interesting than counting sheep. Perhaps you have only one friend, but one is enough—he may be the more appreciated. Just think of how you came to know each other, of how the friendship developed and of the happy incidents that have marked your acquaintance. Or, if you have no earthly friends whatever, let your thought dwell upon the great Friend of the friendless and how you came to know him. Somehow the most precious of our earthly friendships seem poor compared to this one that distance and time and even death itself cannot sever. And there is one advantage in this attempt to defeat insomnia—even your wakefulness will be enjoyable and restful.—Interior.

True Oratory.

"True oratory," said a statesman, "is that which brings results, is that which converts an audience of enemies to an audience of supporters. Such oratory is rare. I have a friend whose wife, a 'suffragette,' is a great orator. Her speeches from the platform are wonderful, and her husband the other day gave me an illustration of the efficiency of her private speeches.

"'An agent called on my wife this afternoon,' he said, 'and tried to sell her a new wrinkle eradicator.'

"'And how did the man make out?' said I.

"'He left in half an hour,' was the answer, 'with a gross of bottles of wrinkle eradicator of my wife's own manufacture that he had purchased from her.'"—Portland Oregonian.

Just as a Compliment.

Count Baldissare Castiglione wrote of manners in sixteenth century Italy: "Discourse of love is used by every gentleman, * * * not only when impelled by ardor, but also merely to do honor to the lady with whom he speaks. The pretense of loving her is, at any rate, a testimony to her worthiness to be loved. She, on her part, will for a time seem to fail to understand and anon will take it all as a merry jest."

A Curious Structure.

On the road from Clifton downs to Avonmouth the traveler will pass, in the Avon gorge, a curious structure to which a singular tradition is attached, relates the London Tatler. The story is that a person named Cook about a century ago was told by a gypsy in the Leigh woods that his only son would be killed by a serpent before he reached the age of twenty-one. To avert this he built a high tower and shut his son in the topmost room with the intention of secluding him there until the fatal age was passed. However, by accident a viper was taken up in a fagot to the room to light the fire, and it crept from the fagot and bit the boy so that he died. Therefore the tower was called Cook's Folly, and that is its name to this day, whatever is the true explanation.

Hoarse coughs and stuffy colds that may develop into pneumonia over night are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, and it soothes inflamed membranes, heals the lungs, and expels the cold from the system. J W. McCollum & Co.

LATHAM'S HOME RUN.

And How It Figured In Having Him Dubbed "the Dude."

Charley Comiskey told the story of how Arlie Latham came to be called "the dude."

"One spring during Latham's term of service with the good old St. Louis Browns," said Comiskey, "he jumped into the opening game of the season and won us a victory by knocking out a home run in the last inning. Chris von der Ahe from his place in the grand stand saw Arlie make his sensational hit and naturally enthused. After the game 'der boss president' entered the clubhouse and in that peculiar dialect of his said to Latham:

"'Arlie, my poy, you must be glad that I, Chris, vas proud mit you, an' I vill show you vat my feelings is by giving you the present of somedings for you to wear on yourself. Take dis order on mine own tailor an' go an' dress up yourself.'

"Chris' order on the tailor read something like this:

"'Give to Arlie der t'ings vat he buys, an' send to me der bill.'

"Latham didn't do a thing on the strength of that order but replenish his wardrobe. For three days in succession he showed up at the ball park in a fine makeup, and every suit of clothes was brand new. On the fourth day Chris got a bill from the clothing people for $100. Naturally he sent for Latham and demanded an explanation.

"'Why, Chris, old pal,' said 'Lath,' 'there's nothing to explain. Didn't you agree in that order you gave me to pay for what I bought, and haven't I just begun to buy? Why, old pal, I have only got three suits and expect to be measured for another this afternoon. What's wrong?'

"'Arlie,' replied Von der Ahe, 'you vas de one infernal dude in de pizness, I vill dis bill pay, but you vill yourself go to der tailor an' mit him explain vot I dink of der impudence of you yourself. You vill also stop mit de clothes you now have on an' do no more mit such foolishness mit der man vot pays your salary. Arlie, you vas one dude, an' if you play mit any errors dis afternoon I vill myself fine you all der bootiful clothes you have yourself bought.'

"From that day Latham became known to the baseball world as 'the dude.'"

Grant and Sumner.

Concerning the reliability of things in print, it is recalled that Charles Sumner criticised General Grant savagely, and some time after some one was talking to Grant about atheism in New England and remarked, "Even Sumner does not believe in the Bible." "Why should he?" quietly replied Grant. "He didn't write it."

Gathering Ammunition.

"What makes you think our new congressman is going to be so successful as a speechmaker?" said one constituent.

"Because," answered the other, "whenever he hears a story that strikes him as funny he goes into the hall and makes a note of it in his memorandum book."—Washington Star.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Gainesville Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Gainesville people endorse our claim.

Mrs. V. E. Spence, 201 W. Arlington street, Gainesville, Fla., says: "It would be hard to describe how I suffered from a weak and aching back. At times the pains were so intense that I could not get up or down. I was also troubled by rheumatism and different parts of my body became stiff and lame. A friend finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procuring a box, I began their use. I am glad to say that they lived up to representations, removing the pains and disposing of the rheumatism. I can honestly say that Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than any medicine I had previously taken."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says: "Vice-President Sherman is scheduled to go to Georgia and eat 'possum after the inauguration. But this imitation of an eminent example is not likely to occupy much space in the press dispatches unless President Taft should develop dangerously bad health."

The Chattanooga Times says: "The bill introduced in the Cuban Congress to prohibit aliens from owning land in the island will bring on a great deal of talk from your 'Uncle Samuel' if it should become a law. What did we free Cuba for if we were not to have the privilege of possessing it? The man who introduced the bill was doubtless a 'long-headed' patriot, or he was very shy of practical comprehension of what is coming."

The Philadelphia Record says: "Senator LaFollette may be a nuisance to his easy-going or unconscious colleagues, but his objections to the passage without debate of appropriation bills for hundreds of millions of expenditures ought to bear fruit. The postponement of the big money bills to the tail-end of the session, to be jammed through without even a decent pretense of public discussion, is an abominable abuse. Government by the lobby and the secret caucus is far more objectionable than 'government by commission.'"

The Birmingham News says: "Times have changed since the days of the first President. Washington threw a dollar across the Potomac, but today a dollar will not go so far. Washington could not even tell a lie, but today any school boy can accomplish this feat with hardly an effort. Washington's messages to Congress were brief and pointed. He never heard of rebates, reformed spelling, muckrakers or mollycoddles. The Ananias Club was not dreamed of, secret service was a purely personal matter. Without such ready aids to popularity, employed by the spot-light shifter of the White House, it is all the more admirable that he stepped easily and naturally into the niche above which is inscribed, 'First in War, First in Peace, First in the Hearts of His Countrymen.'"

The Mobile Register says: "The decision by a majority of the subcommittees of the Senate Judiciary Committee to report that President Roosevelt did wrong in directing the Attorney-General not to interfere with the merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, is a rebuke to the President, whether the whole committee adopts the report or not. The action again shows that the greatest champions of measures for curbing the power of unlawful combinations may fall by the wayside when they are most confident. Mr. Roosevelt now stands as the busted trust-buster; his efforts nullified by his own action. He was persuaded into permitting an unlawful combination at a time when his efforts were supposed to be concentrated against such combinations, illustrating the weakness of policies when announced with blare of trumpets."

It is said that the exertme dry weather of the past year is responsible for the scarcity of quail in this section this season, the birds having gone to the swamps and branches, where it is almost impossible to find them.

CLARK STIRS UP RACKET.

An Associated Press dispatch gives the following account of how Hon. Frank Clark stirred up a racket in Congress on Tuesday last:

"Rising to a question of the highest privilege, Mr. Clark offered a resolution providing for an investigation by the committee on judiciary of the letter of Secretary of State Bacon of February 9, 1909, wherein the secretary deprecated the remarks of Mr. Rainey of Illinois regarding Panama canal affairs, in order to ascertain whether or not it was a violation of the privileges of the public and to make recommendation accordingly.

"Messrs. Payne (New York) and Overstreet (Indiana) sprang to their feet, the former demanding that the resolution be laid on the table, while Mr. Overstreet made a point of order that the resolution was not privileged. In the meantime, Mr. Clark was appealing for recognition, and finally got it. He quoted the constitution in support of his resolution, but said that whether or not it was privileged the subject should be investigated.

"The letter of Secretary of State Bacon, he said, had been scattered broadcast over the world through the press: 'There has been filed in the archives of the Government, there to remain as long as the Government stands,' he said, 'an attack on a member of this House for what he may have said in debate on this floor.'

"Mr. Rainey, he charged, had been denounced in that letter as having uttered an untruth in debate; 'was denounced by the Secretary of State at the direction of the President,' and denounced in an official communication to the representative of a quasi-foreign power. It was, he said, one of the gravest breaches of the privileges of the House and an indignity and insult to the House.

"In an elaborate opinion Speaker Cannon said he preferred not to pass on the point of order and sustain the same, but believed it would be better to let the House take such action as it saw proper on a decision overruling the point of order, 'and whether a question of privilege is involved or even a shadow of a question of privilege would be for the House to determine.' He thereupon overruled the point. On a motion by Mr. Payne (New York) to lay the resolution on the table, Mr. Clark succeeded in forcing a roll call.

"By a strict party vote of 186 to 120 the resolution was laid on the table."

If the United States Government officials are correct, the American Sugar Refinery Company has Bret Hart's "heathen Chinee" beaten in "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain." Scales manufactured expressly to be manipulated during the weighing of sugar to defraud the Government right under the eyes of the inspectors is what the company is charged with having.

In twelve years, from 1895 to 1907, the number engaged in manufacturing in Germany has increased by 1,500,000, while the number engaged in agriculture has decreased by 500,000. This not only shows how rapidly Germany has forged to the front as a manufacturing nation, but also that it will have to look more than ever to this country and Canada for food supplies.

The United States Supreme Court has given some of the trusts a bad body blow in deciding that trusts which operate in restraint of trade cannot collect for debts incurred under an illegal agreement. The signs are evidently multiplying that combinations of capital are to be shorn of their unjust powers.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Riley and the Scotchman.

Eugene Field was fond of relating the following story of James Whitcomb Riley: "To beguile the tediousness of the return voyage from Europe it was proposed to give a concert in the saloon of the ship, an entertainment to which all capable of amusing their fellow passengers should contribute. Mr. Riley was asked to recite some of his original poems, and of course he cheerfully agreed to do so. Among the number present at this midocean entertainment, over which the Rev. Myron Reed presided, were two Scotchmen, very worthy gentlemen, en route from the Land o' Cakes to the land of biscuits upon a tour of investigation. These twain shared the enthusiasm with which the auditors applauded Mr. Riley's charming recitations. They marveled that so versatile a genius could have lived in a land reputed for uncouthness and savagery.

"Is it no wonderfu', Donald," remarked one of these Scots, "that a tradesman suid be sic a bonnie poet?"

"And is he indeed a tradesman?" asked the one.

"Indeed he is," answered the other. "Did ye no hear the dominie intryjuce him as the Hoosier poet? Just think of it, mon—just think of sic a gude poet dividing his time making hoosiery!"

How to Kill and Cook Possum.

Just how a possum ought to be killed and cooked is told in the Atlanta Constitution by an expert known far and wide in Georgia. He says:

"To kill a possum his head should be placed beneath a stick. Stand on the stick and pull the possum's tail until his neck is broken. A possum requires careful treatment, and to cook one to perfection a peculiar arrangement is necessary. A pan on legs should be provided with a hole in one end which can be plugged. Coals placed under the pan will slowly cook the possum, and as the grease runs out of the carcass it should be drawn off from time to time. All the time the carcass should be basted with a sauce made of pepper and vinegar. In the meantime the potatoes should be boiled. When the possum is almost done the potatoes should be packed in the pan around the possum, a little sugar sprinkled over them, and then the gravy which has been drawn off from the pan should be poured on, after which possum and potatoes should be browned to a turn."

Compassionate.

Small Margie drew the picture of a dog and cat on her slate, and, calling her mother's attention to it, she said:

"Of course a cat ought to have only four legs, mamma, but I drew this one with six so it could run away from the dog."—Exchange.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

Gainesville Has:

One artist.
No saloons.
One garage.
Four hotels.
Four banks.
Four dairies.
One foundry.
Water works.
Ten churches.
One gas plant.
Two tin shops.
Three bakeries.
Ten physicians.
Six fruit stores.
Two gunsmiths.
Six restaurants.
One seed store.
Board of Trade.
Six drug stores.
Four shoe shops.
State University.
Masonic Temple.
Twenty lawyers.
Two paint shops.
Four contractors.
One bicycle shop.
Baseball diamond.
Two ice factories.
Six music schools.

The English Three R's.

We are constantly being misunderstood by the foreigners, says Clarence Rook, and the Frenchman of whom the following story is told contrived to do us something less than justice.

He had been on a visit to this country in order to study at first hand the social manners of the English people.

On returning to his native land he was asked by a friend whether he had discovered the meaning of the mysterious "three R's."

"Oh, I found out what they were on the first day of my visit!" said he.

"And what are they, then?"

"Rippin', rotten and right-o!" replied the triumphant Frenchman.—London Mail.

C. R. Kluger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache, and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 4

The Hen and the Doorknob

By Herbert Kaufman

Once upon a time there was a fool hen who sat on a china doorknob for three weeks expecting to get a family. The only thing she did get was experience.

The advertising field is full of "china doorknob propositions"—examples of merchants who expect good newspapers to hatch money out of bad egg business, or who put sound nest eggs under the wrong "advertising hen."

There are three principles to follow in an advertising campaign: First of all, find a business that will stand advertising; secondly, find the newspaper that will make the advertising pay; thirdly, give the newspaper time to pay.

You can't start in to breed dollars in less time than it takes to hatch them any more than you can pull a hen off the nest before she has had a chance to incubate. In both cases you simply waste what has been invested. If you stop too soon you will get a rotten egg instead of a chicken.

Advertise something out of which you may reasonably expect returns, and when you have found what to advertise, take care that you place your copy in a newspaper that can turn the trick. Don't delude yourself with a china doorknob, and don't confuse a "rooster newspaper," which spends its time cock-a-loorunning, for a "hen newspaper" that is too busy hatching out dollars to strut about bragging.

Are YOU Being "Hunted?"

One of today's want ads. may be hunting you—ransacking the city for you. It may have a message for you of urgent personal importance—one that, when you get it, and heed it, may change the immediate currents of your activities, of your interests—may even place around and about you new environments, new associates; may give you an entirely new start in a business way.

Isn't it worth while to try to find out whether this may not be true—today, tomorrow, or very soon?

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

Interesting Meeting Held at Home of Mrs. T. P. Hay.

The Twentieth Century Club was entertained February 22 at the residence of Rev. T. P. Hay by Mrs. Geo. P. Morris and Mrs. Hay.

With Mrs. Hill in the chair, the first hour was devoted to the business of the club. Discussions were held on various subjects. Among others were the lecture on tuberculosis, which is yet in the future, the bird lecture, membership fees, library tickets and communications from correspondents, showing that the club is wide awake to the best interests of the community.

The subject of the literary program, which followed and of which Mrs. Kenaith Grieve was leader, was the "Earlier Novelists."

Responses to roll call were selections from the writings of Joel Chandled Harris. His biography was read by Mrs. W. S. Dorsey.

Biography of William Gilmore Simms—Mrs. G. K. Broome.

"The Grapevine Swing"—Mrs. W. J. Denby.

Biography of John Pendleton Kennedy—Mrs. Geo. Brumley.

"Facinated by a Rattlesnake"—Mrs. Margaret Gross.

"She Chose a Subject," a reproduction of an article published in The Gainesville Sun, April 15, 1899, provoked much merriment as read by Mrs. John Taylor. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served a la Washington—in other words, cherry ices accompanied by delicate cakes, and the presentation of a souvenir in the shape of tiny hatchets and cherry-bedecked doilies.

The Twentieth Century Club is not going to lay down that little hatchet until intemperance and tuberculosis are vanished.

On Monday, March 8th, the club will meet with Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Towson, 408 West Main street.
